
The Optical Aurora

aurora optical node platforms - arris - aurora's landmark optical node platforms integrate numerous technical innovations to provide the utmost flexibility and adaptability in an optical node platform, ensuring support for evolving network architectures while protecting your investment in the cable plant. optical aurora detectors: using natural optics to motivate ... - keywords: aurora borealis, aurora, atmospheric optics, optical sensors, optics education 1. introduction the aurora is a natural optical phenomenon that occurs primarily in high-latitude regions, created when energetic particles carried from the sun by the solar wind collide with gas atoms and molecules in the upper auroral imaging and space-based optical remote sensing - auroral imaging/space-based optical remote sensing the aurora is a spectacular manifestation of the link between our magnetized planet and the magnetized plasma that constantly streams out from the sun. understanding this link is key to understanding "space weather" for military and civilian users, an issue that optical sensor interface for afx digital led timer/counter - an interface to couple optical sensors to an aurora afx electronic lap counter/timer has been presented. the generic design of the interface provides it with a much greater potential for interfacing to other devices. it could be used for utilizing 1960's-era aurora electromechanical lap counters. or it could be used for an inter- rf-optical system study for aurora phase 1 review - rf-optical system study for aurora phase 1 review t. dreischer, m. tüchler, t. weigel, g. baister -oerlikon space ag p. regnier, x. sembely -astrium sas enhancement of optical aurora triggered by the solar wind ... - optical aurora during the time interval of about 1432 ut-1445 ut at zhongshan and 1432 ut-1510 ut at bjn. the timing of the intensity maximum of the magnetic variation is the same as that of the auroral luminosity maximum; the first magnetic pulse at observations of colocated optical and radar aurora - radar aurora obtained with a 30 mhz imaging radar and the optical aurora (green line emissions) recorded by an all sky camera. in addition, in situ rocket electric field measurements in the vicinity of an auroral arc are presented in a separate case study. as inferred from the measurements, the radar aurora in the vicinity of a stable evening ... vpx optical interfaces boost system capabilities - optical connectivity in system design vpx optical interfaces boost system capabilities ... aurora is very efficient in linking data streams between multiple fpgas within a module, or between modules across a backplane. data rates per serial lane can be 12.5 ghz or higher. headend optics platform (ch3000) - arris - headend optics platform (ch3000) os32m2s, os32s1a, os32s3a master/slave optical switches the arris os32m2s/os32sxx series of master/slave optical switches for the ch3000 platform offer fast switching times, low insertion loss and high packaging density, and all operate in dual-wavelength windows (ranges of 1280-1340 nm and 1420-1620 nm).
